What is cryptocurrency

Cryptocurrencies are digital tokens. They are a type of digital currency that allows people to make payments directly to each other through an online system. Cryptocurrencies have no legislated or intrinsic value; they are simply worth what people are willing to pay for them in the market. Cryptocurrency, or crypto, is virtual or digital assets purchased with real money ($, £) traded on blockchain technology. It does not have all the values of real or fiat currencies. Cryptocurrencies, like Bitcoin and Ethereum, are different from stocks and real money.

What is crypto Trading?

Crypto trading refers to the act of buying and selling cryptocurrencies on a digital exchange, aiming to profit by capitalizing on price fluctuations in the market by purchasing a cryptocurrency at a lower price and selling it at a higher price when its value increases; essentially, it's like trading stocks but with digital currencies instead.
